OUR SCHOOL DAYS

IN just a week the senior class of '46 will say farewell to S. J. A. Our hearts are saddened at the thought of leaving our dear teachers and friends, but then again we are happy because now we are about to go out and make a place for ourselves in the

For many of us it will be harder to say good-bye because S. J. A. has been our Alma Mater for 12 years, then there are others who have made S. J. A. their home for a lesser number of years, but they, too, have learned to love it as we do.

Looking in our crystal ball over the past we see a group of farm with Mrs. Gus Frierson anxious children who are just starting school under the tender care of Sister Marie Adele, who was our teacher for two years. Then we passed to the 3d, 4th, and 5th grades during which time ed to Bogalusa an account of the illwe were sponsored by jolly Sister Frances Xavier. Then strict ness of her mother. but capable and kind Sister Cornelius took us under her wing in the 6th grade. In the 7th and 8th grades we had efficient accident Sunday by falling. She and loving Sister Albina as our teacher and then at last, that broke a rib but is getting along nicewonderful day came, we were graduated from grammar school ly an were preparing to enter high school, there we had to adjust ourselves to entirely different studies and did so with the kind assistance of Mother Claire, Sister Louise Raphael, Sister Albertine and Sister Mary Grace. This lasted for only three years and Mother Claire was replaced by Mother Marie Blanche who immediately won her way into the hearts of all the students. Last year we also said farewell to Sister Grace and welcomed Sister and is expected home soon. Dorothy into our midst.

So we close this happy chapter in our book of life, a chapter that has covered 12 years of school, years that are full of memories to the Shaw family in the loss of a that we will always cherish.

With Hollywood's Comedy Champions Bud Abbott and Lou Costello

Hollywood's comedy champions, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello coming to the screen of the Ortte Theatre in what must be described as the laugh surprise of the season. It is Universal's hilarious "Little Giant." Not since "Buck Privates" have the popular comics delivered so much merriment to movie audiences.

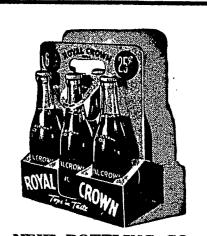

Out-entertaining the previous Abbott and Costello films, the new vehicle has a genuine plot, love inter-

Considerable credit is obviously due to the skillful direction of William A. Seiter, who played comedy roles on the screen himself before he became one of the industry's leading laugh-makers.

Costello has the role of a farm boy who takes lessons in salesmanship from phonograph records, and starts off to the big city to make his fortune. As might be expected, there he meets Bud Abbott, who appears in two roles both of which make things tough for the ambitious yokel.

Sequences in which the bumpkin overcomes all obstacles and becomes the prize-winning vacuum cleaner salesman, are among the funniest ever filmed. The picture's climax is a grand combination of heart-throbs mirth and drownright thrills.

Brenda Joyce, Jacqueline de wi and Elena Verdugo have the leading est, scheming villains, and mom's feminine roles. Mary Gordon and George Cleveland are other favorites in the splendid cast.

"Little Giant" was scenarized by Walter De Leon from the ingenious Letters of Administration on the original story by Paul Jarrico and

Our customers are mostly voices on the telephone"

To a lot of businesses, customers are better known by their voices than by their faces. They order by telephone-seldom come in person to buy.

Many merchants conduct their buying in the same way. The telephone is the funnel through which flows an endless stream of commercial transactions.

Businessmen have grown accustomed to continually rising standards of telephone performance. But with the Telephone Company—as with every business—the maintenance of that performance is directly related to the maintenance of earnings.

In 1945, telephone earnings were the lowest in more than two decades. In the current year, even lower earnings are in prospect. Wages have been increased, in keeping with the national trend, and the cost of everything else which goes into the furnishing of telephone service is steadily rising.

As every business man knows, adequate earnings are a primary requirement of American enterprise. Telephone earnings must be sufficient to provide the kind of service you expect and to attract new capital for continued expansion.

In a word, adequate earnings safeguard the full usefulness of the telephone in carrying on the affairs of the community.
